

2026 Admissions Advisory Day

On 8 March 2026, VNU University of Law took part in an admissions advisory day held at Hanoi University of Science and Technology. The annual event gives universities the chance to meet with prospective students and parents and answer questions about admissions. This year, attendees showed particular interest in information about full-time undergraduate programs, enrollment quotas by major, and VNU's admissions methods for the year.

Details of VNU University of Law's planned admissions information are available here.